

‘These Things Happen’ by Rick Christian

[Music]

*These things happen, everyday
These things happen, come what may.*

*Devoted couple so much in love,
Wedding blessed by heaven above
Twenty years further down the line, diamond ring lost it's shine
Marriage vows soon forgot, less like have, more like have not
As he leaves he says he'll call, she knows he won't, after all.*

*These things happen, every day
These things happen, come what may.*

© Just for the Record

‘These Things Happen’ was originally released in 1996 on an album of the same name, and is performed by Rick Christian on vocals and six-string guitar, Graham Good on dobro, and Brian Jenking on six-string bass guitar. This version was published in 2001 on ‘Folk Festival’, a CD produced for Walton Folk Festival. Read more about the recording on Essex Archives Online: SA 30/1/24/1.